

Get Started

1 Choose the nearest age

Choose the checklist that matches your child's age. If your child falls between two ages, use the earlier age (if child is 4½ years old, use the 4 year checklist). If your child is 3 or more weeks premature, determine the appropriate checklist at lookseechecklist.com/premature

2 Answer the questions

Answer the questions to the best of your ability. If you are not sure, try the question with your child. Any examples are only suggestions. You may use similar examples from your family experience. Language and communication items can be asked in the child's first language. Items marked with ** may not be common to all cultures.

3 Follow-up with a professional

If you answer "no" to any question or have any concerns about your child's development, follow-up with a health care and/or child care professional.

When you're done

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY NDDS® has created and provides the Checklists to assist parents, health care and child care professionals (users) with a convenient and easy to use method of recording the development and progress of infants and children within certain age groupings. The Checklists are not meant to be a substitute for the advice and/or treatment of health care and child care professionals trained to properly and professionally assess the development and progress of infants and children. Although the Checklists may help users to determine when they need to seek out the advice and/or treatment of health care and child care professionals, users must still consult with competent health care and child care professionals for advice and/or treatment respecting specific children and their particular needs. Users should bear in mind the following when using the Checklists: (i) The needs of each infant/child are unique. Each infant/child will develop differently and as such, any perceived limitations in development must be reviewed by a health care and/or child care professional to be properly assessed; (ii) While every effort has been made to make the Checklists as culturally, economically and geographically neutral as possible, it must be understood by users that they may still reflect some cultural, economic or geographic prejudices. As such, these prejudices may affect a specific infant's/child's results in a Checklist without actually reflecting a developmental limitation. Again, users should contact a health care and/or child care professional to review the needs of an individual infant/child; (iii) The Checklists cannot contain every possible indicator of developmental limitations or goals to be met. As such, the Checklists are not designed for and should not be used to diagnose or treat perceived developmental limitations or other health needs. NDDS® makes no representation or warranties, express or implied. This includes, but is not limited to, any implied warranty or merchantability of fitness for a particular use or purpose, and specifically disclaims any such warranties and representations. NDDS® expressly disclaims any liability for loss, injury or damages incurred or occasioned as a consequence, directly or indirectly, of the use of the Checklists. (i) Each page of the Checklist shall only be used in relation to an individual infant/child; (ii) When a Checklist page has been used for an individual infant the completed Checklist page may be copied for archival purposes only, or in order to provide a copy to a health care and child care professional in order to assist in the advice or treatment given by the recipient professional for the individual infant/child; (iii) Except as provided in (ii) above, the user shall not copy, modify or remove any of the trademarks, trade names or copyright notices of Nipissing® from the Checklists, either in whole or in part; (iv) The user does not acquire any proprietary or other interest in the Checklists. © The Nipissing and NDDS are trademarks of NDDS Intellectual Property Association, used under license. # Try these tips to help your child grow:

I need to feel safe and secure so I can focus my attention on exploring the world around me. You won't spoil me by holding me.

We need quiet time together so we can get to know each other. Rock me in your arms, hold me close, make eye contact, talk, and sing to me. This is how I learn to trust you.

Let's play together. I may enjoy massage or gentle tickling. Watch for my response. If I enjoy it, we can do it again.

I like it when you move my hands in front of my face so I can see them. Clap my hands together and play Pat-a-cake.

I like variety and tire easily, so change my position often throughout the day. Place me on my tummy, prop me up safely in a sitting position, place me on my back, or hold me at your shoulder.

When I am on my tummy, move bright coloured toys in front of me. This will encourage me to lift my head and push up with my forearms to get my chest off the floor. I want you to see what I can do. I love your face the best, so please get down on the floor with me.

Talk to me face to face. Use my name often while we are playing, dressing, and feeding. From time to time, use a high voice, low voice, singsong voice, or soft voice.

As we play together, imitate my speech sounds (sighs, coos, jabbering) and my actions (facial expressions, movements). Wait for me to respond and react to me by smiling, laughing, and praising.

I like your voice the most. Say nursery rhymes, and sing lullabies and songs you make-up. Try this from different parts of the room to see if I can turn to find you. Remember to give me quiet time each day.

I need time to practise looking, reaching and touching. Place a variety of toys of different textures in my hand. Let me reach for toys to practise these skills.

I can choke on anything that fits through this circle.
